BLAIRMORE VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

The Blaimore Vacation Bible School opened Monday, August 6th, when sixty-five children took part in the activities of the first day. Those included some jolly rounds and songs, games and pyramid building by the boys. Stories of interest to the several age groups were enjoyed also.
Several attractive handicraft projects were well done by the children under the direction of Miss Jean Reagh, of Lethbridge.

The children of smaller departments are enjoying the lunch provided for them each day, and the director, Miss Jean Galbraith, is delighted with the co-operation of many in this respect. Other assistance which is making the school possible is most gratifying, too. The leaders of the departments, namely, Miss Hewitt, beginners; Mrs. Bannan, primary;
Mrs. C. Howe, juniors, and Miss Jenkins, intermediates, along with their assistants are to be highly commended because their services are so efficient and given so thorowly. The school is happy to welcome any children at all times during these two weeks. The boys and girls are glad to get better acquainted with Jesus and His followers, as well as verses of hymns universal in all denominations.

The vacation school opens every morning except Saturday and Sunday at 9.30 and continues until 11.30 in the Blaimore United church.
There has already been an increase of over twenty children attending, and it is not desired that any child should miss these good times.

There will be a demonstration and exhibit of the children's work at a picnic on Wednesday, August 15th.
Parents and children are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, of Blaimore, spent a couple of weeks at Crown's Nest Lake, occupying the "Dunwurkin" cottage, remarks the Coleman Journal. Yes, "dome workin", alright—both grand-dad and grand-ma!

MISSING RANGERS REPORTED SAFE

Missing for hours in the Castle Mountain forest, fire area, 30 miles southwest of Beaver Mines, and 35 miles south of Coleman, near the B.C. boundary, two forest rangers, J. A.
Frankish and Joseph Kovach, came out safely Wednesday morning. Word reached Chief Ranger J. H. Boulton at Coleman, from South Fork, that the men are safe after being listed as missing during the night.

Chief Forest Ranger Boulton, of Coleman, at 1.50 Wednesday afternoon reported the Castle Mountain forest fire situation considerably easier, although no fewer than 70 men are still fighting the blaze. "Calmer weather is helping us greatly," said the official.

Firefighters, who were turning their attention to a search for Frankish and Kovach, are now concentrating all their efforts to bring under control the blaze raging toward the top of the mountain. Between 60 and 70 men joined in the fight yesterday and fresh recruits were sent in by truck from Coleman this morning, also food and clothing.

The fire swept up from the B.C.
side over the week end, embers flying ahead of the blaze, which burned over a three-mile front going over the summit. Heavy clouds of smoke rolled out of the broken mountain area north of Waterton National park.
Tuesday afternoon, the sky to the south and west taking on a dark and weird appearance. Dense banks of smoke were fringed with reddish hues. Wednesday morning the atmosphere was greatly cleared over the prairie, but in the mountains smoke still poured out of the affected area.

In addition to the Castle mountain fire there is a hot fire burning near Kelly's Camp, southwest of Pincher Creek, and men are battling this outburst today. It is believed the cool night and heavy dew combined to calm the fires somewhat, but it is feared they may flare up again today as the heat intensifies. A third outburst in Pleasant Valley, in the Beaver Mines country, gave some concern yesterday but it is now under control.

No settlements or ranches are in immediate danger.
The scene of the Castle mountain blaze is difficult to reach because of the thick, tangled bush and scarcity of established trails. Chief Ranger Boulton, of Coleman, is directing the fire-fighting operations and the crews sent in from the Pass. They have to cover much of the distance by horse or on foot because of the rugged character of the country.—Ex.

ern British Columbia, the International Coal & Coke Co's team won the Information has reached Alberta that William R. Watson, L.L.B., was married at Niagara Falls on July the 5th, having eloped with his bride, the former Miss Marguerite Martin, daughter of H. Milton Martin and granddaughter of the late Justice N.

D. Beck. Mr. Watson, it will be remembered, visited this section of Alberta about two years ago, showing how he had overcome the obstacle of being born without the use of hands or arms. He is the author of "My Desire." It is understood Mr. and Mrs. Watson will remain in Toronto, where he will continue his crusade for vocational training for crippled children.

MRS C. MILLAR LAID TO REST

The funeral of the late Mrs. Sadie Alexander Millar, who died last Thursday, after a prolonged illness, brated by the Rev. Father A. Harrington, who gave a most touching sermon on "Life and Death".

After mass, relatives and a large

To Stimulate Objective Thinking

The topsy-turvy condition in which the world finds itself to-day, naturally leads to serious thought on the part of everyone. Why should there be so much poverty and want in the midst of a surplus of commodities? What are the real causes of stagnation of trade the world over. One hears that the capitalist system is doomed, and out of the present chaotic conditions a new order is bound to be established. Many theories are being continually advanced, designed to produce a new Utopia. The history of the world establishes the fact that all reforms necessarily come slowly. There can be no rapid realization of many obviously needed changes in our social system. But the world does not stand still, a forward and not a backward movement is inevitable. The encouragement and not the suppression of constructive thinking and expression of thought would be of material assistance. In the annual address of Principal Pyke of Queen's University, reference was made to the stimulation of thought by means of discussions in the class rooms. He is reported in part as follows:

"In our academic seclusion we sometimes catch from a busier world the echoes of an accusation that the Universities of Canada are becoming 'nurseries of anarchy and revolution.' So far as such charges have any basis except hysteria, they may serve to encourage us, for they seem to indicate that students are in some measure acquiring the art of looking at both sides of disputed questions, an art in which it is our duty to encourage them. The ideal of suppressing enquiry and free speech, which has for the moment established a tragic dominance in many parts of the world, is nowhere more absurd than in a University, where men and women gather to exercise their faculties of curiosity and logic. Those faculties in them are necessarily immature; their utterances are often thoughtlessly dogmatic. But to stifle thought and utterance would be in a University the basest treason. As Penn said, 'Whoever is right, the persecutor must be wrong.'"

"If we are to stimulate in our pupils objective thinking, we must be equally free in speech and thought ourselves—but not equally rash. Propaganda is no part of a teacher's proper function. He is not concerned to produce opinion, a temporary state of conviction which can be quickly changed by counter-propaganda. His aim is to stimulate the growth of intelligence, the power of detached judgment. To that end he may exercise in the class-room every art of sophistry, but if he blinks his way into the outer world, where opinions clash unanchored both from fact and reason, it behooves him to remember what astonishing weight that world attaches to a professorial pronouncement. The dignity of the University stands beside him on the platform, sternly demanding judicial sobriety. A University teacher should certainly be clever; he needs to be wise; and of the factors of wisdom not the least are self-restraint and kindness and patience."

Appoint Commission

To Inquire Into Claims Of Alberta For Further Resources Compensation

Hon. Andrew K. Dymark, judge of the Manitoba court of king's bench; Hon. Thomas M. Tweedie, judge of the supreme court of Alberta, and George C. Macdonald, Montreal, have been constituted a commission to inquire into claims of the province of Alberta for further compensation with respect to the administration and control of its natural resources. Announcement of the appointment was officially published recently. Mr. Justice Dymark is chairman.

With the exception of Mr. Justice Tweedie the commission is the same as that which investigated similar claims on the part of Saskatchewan recently. On the completion of the Alberta report the commission will render to the federal government joint recommendations on behalf of both provinces.

Chinese Form Of Torture

Used Skin Of Rhinoceros To Crush Political Prisoners

The ancient Chinese had some strange uses for the rhinoceros, according to a report by an American archaeologist. One form of torture was to wrap a political prisoner in the hide of a freshly killed rhinoceros. As the hide dried it contracted and slowly crushed the victim. Another use the ancient Chinese had for rhinoceros skins was for covering funeral cars. Also the armour of the bronze-age warriors was made of it.

Once upon a time the good died young. But since goodness became a virtually obsolete virtue, the careless have been dying young, instead. Cigarettes in their modern form were introduced into America and Europe about 65 years ago.

Gold Pouring Into London

Great Increase In Foreign Deposits Of Precious Metal

The golden tide, unexampled in the history of the world's monetary movements, continues to pour into London.

It began a year ago with a gold influx at the rate of $25,000,000 weekly, then it increased early this year to $62,000,000 weekly, and now it averages 45 millions weekly and shows no indication of declining. As soon as gold arrives in England from South Africa, Canada and other producing countries, it is bought by French, German, Dutch and American buyers, nervous about the financial state of affairs in their own countries, and stored away uselessly in the vaults of London banks, where they know it cannot be touched. Already in the square mile that constitutes the city of London more precious metal has accumulated than over King Solomon's legendary mines contained. The latest figures, covering a period of nine months, show gold importations valued at $1,000,000,000. Exports reached less than $500,000,000. Altogether, at the moment one billion and a quarter of foreign gold is stored in the city banks—a figure which exceeds any previous records in peace time.

Bankers do not want this gold; they cannot use it either to provide credits for industry or work for Britain's unemployed. Moreover, any fresh financial upheaval in Europe might cause its flight from London, with disastrous effects on sterling's international stability. Its usefulness is further emphasized by the fact that, although London's vaults are bursting with it, the official government figures reveal that the British people's purchasing power in the way of wages and salaries has been decreased through an economy campaign by $310,000,000 since the gold crisis of 1931.

Solo Climber Lost Life

Former British Army Captain Attempted Ascent Of Mount Everest

A solo climb of Mount Everest would be the limit in human daring. It is the sort of unbridled audacity which the Greeks thought allied to sacrifice and which the gods invariably punished. The penalty has been meted out to Maurice Wilson, former British army captain who set out to walk up a mountain which conquerors have failed to conquer. It was his theory that these Everest attempts had failed because of overexhaustion, in which he may have been right.

Mr. Wilson did not count on making use of ropes and tracks left by the Rutledge expedition last year, so that in the strictest sense his was something more than a one-man expedition. But when all is said and done, he obviously belonged to the new school of mountaineering which has sprung up since the war and which has transformed a sport into a gamble with death. The new climbers have performed feats which the older Alpinists would not dream of attempting, but they have done it at an enormous cost of life.—New York Times.

To Salvage Treasure

Nineteen Gallions Sunk In 1702 To Be Reached For Gold

The 19 galleons of the Franco-Spanish fleet sunk in the Bay of Vigo in September, 1702, by the combined British and Dutch fleets under Sir George Rooke and the Duke of Ormonde, will be searched for gold this summer, the Madrid newspaper El Debate reported.

Several previous attempts to salvage the treasure brought by the fleet from the West Indies were fruitless.

Glass Is Latest Vogue

Glass and steel are the vogue for modern homes in England this season. Glass what-nots and chromium-tubed easy chairs are among the most popular pieces. Glass beds are coming into style. Steel drawing rooms and glass bedrooms are considered the latest in human habitation.

The principal European countries, notably France, Italy, and Germany, have stringently controlled the imports of dairy products during the past few years by tariffs, quotas, and other means. This has resulted in a steady increase in the quantities of butter and cheese exported to the United Kingdom.

Canadian production of timothy seed is less than one half of domestic requirements, as indicated by importation statistics, while substantial export surpluses of alfalfa, sweet clover, and Canada blue grass are usually produced yearly.

Building More Ships

Britain Still Maintaining Her Role Of The Sea

What may be taken as a sign of a world trend toward prosperity is the fact that on June 30 last, compared with the same date last year, there was a 70 per cent. increase in the tonnage of the merchant ships under construction in the yards of all nations, except Russia, about which Lloyd's had no official information. Since June, 1933, there has been increased activity in most shipyards and compared with the report on March 31, it is still on the upgrade though the argument of new tonnage was only 1 per cent.

Great Britain and Ireland, which are taken together, still lead the way. They are building five of the ships of 20,000 tons or more, the sixth being under construction in France. Two of the large British ships were started last quarter.

The British yards are now building 48.3 per cent. of all merchant tonnage, namely, 587,142 tons out of the 1,216,340 under construction. The British increase was 105,702 tons over last quarter. To appreciate Britain's position we have only to compare it with Japan's, which is next in line. Japan's total tonnage on June 30 was 157,260, less than a fourth of Britain's total, and Japan's increase was 14,000 tons, less than a seventh Britain's increase.

France comes next in line, then Germany, Denmark, Holland, Sweden, Italy, the United States and Spain, in the order named. The only two nations which showed less shipbuilding activity were Italy and Spain. The United States moved up from tenth to ninth place, though its increase was only 247 tons. It is evident that British merchant shipping is maintaining its rule of the sea.

A Million In Time

World War Lasted About Two Million Minutes

A way of realizing the meaning of a million is to think of what it means in time. Few people realize that there are less than a million days in the whole Christian Era; in fact, if we could count a million days from 1933, we come to a date well before the founding of Rome, while a million years would take us back to the Battle of Trafalgar. The Great War lasted about two million minutes, and, taking the total casualties as ten millions, this gives an average of five casualties per minute throughout the period of hostilities.

The movement of sheep and lambs in Canada from farms to livestock yards and packers showed a substantial increase during 1933 and was well above the five-year average, 1929-1932.

Logging camps and other woods operations form an important outlet for Canadian canned and dried fruits.

In 1933 a total of 598,300 acres were sown to buckwheat in Canada and production amounted to 8,483,000 bushels.

King George's Silver Jubilee

Celebration Will Be Held In May Of Next Year

The Irish Free State has declined to send a representative to participate in next year's celebration of the silver jubilee of King George's accession, it was revealed in the House of Commons.

The revelation was made by Acting-Premier Stanley Baldwin who announced the celebration would be held May 6 to 18 and the 25th anniversary of accession would be observed as a public holiday throughout the nation.

Mr. Baldwin said prime ministers of Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa had welcomed with warmth the suggestion they take part in the ceremonies at London, although it was impossible to tell at the moment if they would be able to be present owing to possibility of political developments keeping them at home.

"The acting-premier said also the government hoped to hold informal conversations with the premiers regarding important empire questions, taking advantage of their presence in London."

The Irish refusal of the invitation was decided by President Eamon de Valera and his executive on the grounds attendance was not possible under present conditions, a statement presumed to mean the Free State did not wish to take part in view of differences between it and the United Kingdom over land annuities and the consequent economic "war".

Features of the celebration which will be a thanksgiving service where their Majesties will attend at St. Paul's cathedral and similar services in other parts of the country.

Home For Quintuplets

New Home To Be Built In Little Northern Ontario Town

Sometime between now and when the early winter snow begins to fly in this little northern Ontario town, the Dionne quintuplets, their five brothers and sisters and their parents will be housed in a comfortable, modern residence.

Through the aid of the Canadian Red Cross, and with assistance also from officials of the northern Ontario relief commission, it was learned recently, plans will be far enough advanced in a few days to allow architect, contractor and workmen to begin their tasks in earnest.

Has Given Good Service

Denver Man Still Driving Roadster Bought In 1910

C. C. Dill, a Denver roofing contractor, estimates that he has got 400,000 miles out of his 1908 roadster. He bought the machine in 1910, after it had been driven about 2,000 miles. In 1915 the speedometer gave up and stopped at 240,000 miles. Since then he has been driving it steadily, from coast to coast and from the Great Lakes to Alabama. Not once has it been involved in an accident or brought its owner into difficulties with the law.

The Christian Science folk built a new publishing house in Boston during the years of depression, paid $4,000,000 for it in cash and never held a garden party or a church supper.

Secret Method Revealed

How Scotland Yard Determines Age Of Finger Prints

Scotland Yard's secret method of telling the age of finger prints was revealed in Sessions Court in London during the trial recently of John C. O'Connor, charged with breaking into the Lady Margaret Day Nursery. Evidence against him was a thumb-print found on a clock, but O'Connor said he had only handled the timepiece in 1932. Detective-Sergeant Jack Living, of New Scotland Yard, said he had no doubt the fingerprint was that of O'Connor. He added: "The powder we apply to latent impressions to bring them out will stick to the ridges of a new print, but an old one is dry and the powder will not adhere to it. A fresh print can easily be removed by a duster, but a stale one can only be removed by a damp cloth."

Education In Russia

Stalin Orders Secondary Schools To Raise Standards Again

Stalin's latest decree that the secondary schools of the Soviet Union must, in some degree at least, return to the standards and methods of the rest of Europe adds another paragraph to a new and more hopeful chapter in an old, and rather sorry story. The story is that of the failure of an experiment, which, like so many other things in modern Russia, looked very handsome on paper, but which has proved to be quite beyond realization in actual practice.—Glasgow Herald.

Always Good Neighbors

Canada And United States Like To Exchange Courtesies

That was a friendly and fine gesture when the Americans brought back the mace which they took away from the old Upper Canada parliament back in 1812. To many, it may seem a little thing, yet it is just the sort of little thing that makes for friendship and good feeling between two countries. It is the sort of thing, indeed, which, occurring every now and then, has made Canada and the United States almost model neighbors.—Ottawa Journal.

HITLER TAKES OVER THE ROLE OF DICTATORSHIP

Berlin.—Adolf Hitler, in a series of lightning-like moves, has made himself absolute dictator of Germany.

He concentrated in his own hands the functions of president and of chancellor as soon as the aged president and patriot, Paul von Hindenburg, died at Neudeck.

Then he called for and received an oath of personal allegiance from officers and men of the entire army and navy.

After these moves, amounting to a virtual coup d'état, the former lance corporal, who succeeded a field marshal, called for a plebiscite on Aug. 19.

Although, ostensibly the functions of the presidency, Hitler declined to accept the title.

In a letter to Wilhelm Frick, minister of the interior, Hitler outlined his plans to assume the office without the title, saying he desired henceforth to be known as before as "fuhrer and reichschancellor."

He directed that a "free secret election" be held at which the centralization of power in his hands and such other matters as may be necessary be held.

"The necessity for regulating the question of the chief of state, caused by the national misfortune that has overtaken our people," Hitler wrote, "leads me to issue the following order:

"First, the greatness of the deceased has given to the title of reichspräsident unique and non-recurring significance.

"According to the feeling of all of us, and in what it meant to us this title is indissolubly bound up with the name of the great deceased. I therefore request care be taken in official and unofficial communications to address me just as heretofore, as fuhrer and reichschancellor only. This stipulation is to be observed in the future also.

"Second, I desire that the vesting in my person, and thereby in the reich's chancellor's office as such, of the functions of the former reichspräsident, decided upon by the cabinet and constitutionally valid, shall receive the expressed sanction of the German people.

"Stepped in the conviction that all authority of the state must proceed from the people and by them be ratified in free, secret election, I request you immediately to lay the decision of the cabinet, with possible necessary additions, before the German people for a free plebiscite.

Once again the Germans showed they are a disciplined people, trained to obedience. The change from a country governed at least theoretically by constitution to absolute dictatorship seemed to cause no ripple.

Dire whisperings that the reichswehr, which worshipped the aged President von Hindenburg as a hero, might refuse obedience proved unfounded—as unfounded as had been reports of a general strike when Hitler became chancellor.

By midnight, the propaganda ministry announced the entire army and navy had taken the oath.

It was administered wherever detachments happened to be or wherever ships lay at anchor or moved through the seas.

Aviation Program Reduction

United States Naval Aviation Construction To Be Reduced

Washington.—The United States naval high command was disclosed authoritatively to have determined on a sharp reduction in naval aviation construction.

Present plans, which may be altered, call for 274 fewer planes than the 2,184 which the navy had decided would be necessary under the Vinson bill authorizing a treaty strength navy by 1942. A thousand places, now comprise the naval air force, and plans had evolved to build the other 1,184 in annual installments.

First Wheat Shipped

Winnipeg.—The harvest of 1934 wheat from the Manitoba district was shipped July 31 over Canadian National lines from St. Jean, Man., to Fort William, Ont. The shipper was Eugene Brunet and the wheat was graded No. 2 Northern. It was consigned to the N. M. Peterson Company.

Secure Low Interest Rate

Two Per Cent. Has Been Obtained For Ottawa Loan

Ottawa.—Securing what is believed to be the lowest interest rate in the history of Dominion financing, a loan of $50,000,000 has been negotiated with the Chase National Bank of New York and a group associated with it, bearing interest at two per cent. and maturing in one year. Announcement of the loan was made by Hon. E. N. Rhodes, minister of finance.

With $10,000,000 from the cash balances held by the government the loan will refund a $40,000,000 treasury note issue bearing interest at four per cent. and maturing on Oct. 1, payable in New York City. These notes will be called on Sept. 1, and the saving in interest rates over the year will amount to $1,000,000. The issue being redeemed was sold for a 15-month period.

The new issue will not involve any public offer and may be called on the first business day of June, July or August, 1935. It was taken by the Chase National Bank, associated with the National City Bank of New York, the Bankers' Trust Company, the Guaranty Trust Company, the Chemical Bank and Trust Company, the Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company and the New York Trust Company.

Wants Small Navies

Absolute Minimum Is Idea Of New Japanese Premier

Tokyo.—Kensuke Okada, new premier of Japan, whose viewpoint on naval questions was awaited eagerly by the world, said he believes navies should be reduced to the smallest proportions possible.

But he added that Japan is dissatisfied with the Washington treaty of 1922 as Japan's proportion of capital ships in relation to Great Britain and the United States. Whether the Washington treaty is to be abolished has not yet been decided, he said.

"I cannot favor the present ratio principle in naval limitation, which hurts the self respect of certain nations," said the premier who was called to the head of the government from a long career as a naval officer. His observations were made at his first meeting with foreign newspaper correspondents.

Advertising Canada

Premier Bennett Moves Switch To Light Electric Sign In London

Ottawa.—Moving a switch in Ottawa, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett illuminated a giant electric sign placed on the grand building opposite Canada House in London, advertising the excellence of Canadian products. Mr. Bennett's words of dedication were, at the same time, written against the London skyline in electric letters.

The sign, a part of the advertising program conducted through the office of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian high commissioner, bears a green maple leaf superimposed against a red triangle, the new "Canadian quality" mark recently registered in the United Kingdom. Beneath the mark appears the words—"Canada—The Empire's Leader," and in the next line, "Ask Your Grocer."

Peasants Digging Free Gold

Rich Field Uncovered By Torrential Rains In China

Canton, China.—The national government dispatched troops armed with machine guns to the Yangtze district near Koonmoon to drive off the villagers from the local gold diggings. During recent torrential rains the hillside was washed out revealing free gold.

Peasants rushed to the spot from miles around and are reported to have extracted 10,000 ounces, worth about $350,000, in the last two weeks. The government then claimed the area as a "crown land" but the peasants refused to quit.

French Millers Defy Law

Paris.—The millers of France have openly defied the government's efforts to regulate the price of wheat. In a letter to Premier Gaston Doumergue, the National Association of Millers said it will refuse to abide by the law which fixes the price of harvested wheat at $2.35 a bushel and the coming crop at $1.95.

Breslau, Germany.—Forty-six Communists, accused of subversive activities, were convicted by a special court here and sentenced to prison terms aggregating 73 years.

Opening Of Bay Route

Prospects For A Record Shipping Season Seem Good

Churchill, Man.—Warm winds whistled down Hudson strait as harbor crews at this northern seaport prepared to open the navigation season of 1934 on Aug. 10.

With 10 steamers definitely chartered and more bookings in the offing, port officials were enthused over prospects for a record shipping season. A complete crew always is on hand to swing machinery into action at the huge elevator filled with 2,500,000 bushels of wheat.

First of the fleet of vessels to trade here this season, the S.S. Dalworth, will bring a general cargo from Newcastle and Antwerp.

In addition to taking her fill of grain for the outward journey, she will lead 1,250 tons of flour, oatmeal and other commodities. Cattle from the prairies and lumber will find their way to markets of the world through northern shipping lanes this season.

To End Abuses

Relief Is Promised For Industrial Workers In Ontario

Toronto.—Attorney-General Arthur Roebuck promised Ontario's hunger marchers there would be legislation by the government to definitely end gross industrial abuses. Legislation would be enacted at the next legislative session, he said, to bring industrial workers and employers together for the purpose of evolving a code to govern industry.

"It will be an act with more teeth in it than is contained in existing legislation," he said. "We are going to bring both sides together to work out a code. We are going to put the shyder employer out of business altogether in Ontario. There are other gross abuses which we will abolish."

RECOVERY IN BRITAIN SUFFERS FROM RECESSION

London.—Parliament has adjourned with economic recovery at a crisis.

For the first time since 1932, when Britain began her steady climb out of the depression, business activity has slumped.

The drop is a slight one, but it is the first, and the dominant economic question is whether it is merely temporary or the initial sign of a serious recession in the near future.

Whichever it turns out to be, observers say, the limits to Britain's recovery will be reached at a point well before her pre-depression prosperity unless there is an upward trend in world trade.

The reason is that the recovery to date has been fashioned largely out of internal, not external, demand. Belief that there are limits to such a prosperity has been voiced by Rupert E. Beckett, chairman of the Westminster Bank, who said: "The British people can never gain real prosperity merely by taking in each other's washing."

Experts ascribe Britain's present recovery to two factors: That the country has been able to get its "nerve" back and that, behind the tariff walls erected in 1931, she has been able to gain a large share of her domestic market.

THE AREA WHICH IS AGAIN THE DANGER ZONE

Above is a map showing the position of Austria in relation to the other nations in Europe. Austria's border on the Southwest where it joins Italy is literally covered with 48,000 Italian troops, sent by Mussolini to be ready to defend Austria's independence if necessary. Across the small area which once was the great Hapsburg empire there is flashing an undercurrent of revolution which may break out at any moment. Although the Nazis failed in their efforts to take over control, even though they went to the extent of forcing Chancellor Dollfuss, the situation is still fraught with factional unrest.

Uniform Readers To Be Used In Schools Of Western Provinces

Victoria.—New uniform readers and teachers' manuals will be used in grade schools and correspondence courses of the four Western Canadian provinces next term, starting in September. Hon. G. M. Weir, British Columbia minister of education, announced here.

The series will include a set of six readers and a supporting set of teachers' manuals and work books. The series is called "High Roads To Reading" and contains many notable features not present in the works it will replace. They have already been tried at the B.C. summer school for teachers and heartily endorsed.

Saskatoon Student Is Winner Of Dominion-Wide Contest

Victoria.—William Presecky, 906 York avenue, Saskatoon, a student of St. James' collegiate institute, has been officially declared winner of the Dominion-wide essay contest conducted in connection with the convention of the National Association of Kinmen Clubs of Canada.

Presecky wrote a treatise on the "Autonomy of Canada." His essay was selected as the best of 15 winners from a like number of cities in the Dominion by V. L. Denton, principal of the British Columbia Normal school here.

Grierson Hopes To Resume His Flight To Canada

Reykjavik, Iceland.—John Grierson, British flyer whose seaplane crashed here during an attempted flight from Rochester, England, to Ottawa, left here for Leith, Scotland, aboard an Icelandic steamer with the damaged parts of his machine. The parts will be repaired in England and Grierson said he hoped to return within two weeks and resume his flight to Canada.

Spies Are Sentenced

Seventeen Convictions On Charges Of Espionage In France

Paris.—The number of convictions in the 1934 spy roundup in France has reached 17 with the sentencing of a student, Jean Gernon, who formerly belonged to the Foreign Legion, and a 19-year-old girl.

Frederick Pasquay was convicted of spying for Germany and sentenced to 18 months in prison at Metz, and Jeanne Dieudonne, who lived in Nancy on a charge of attempting to pry secrets from officers stationed at an aviation field.

Thirty-three arrests have been made since January, and there are more than 100 persons, arrested prior to 1934, awaiting trial on espionage charges.

British House Adjourns

Date Of Next Session Set For October 10

London.—Both houses of parliament have adjourned until Oct. 10, unless the lord chancellor and the speaker decide the public interest requires an earlier re-assembly.

During the part of the session just over parliament passed almost 50 public bills. Those left for the autumn include the betting and lotteries bill and a measure designed to curb and punish persons inciting to disorder among His Majesty's forces.

The chief issue before the next session will be that of a new constitution for India.

Scheme Well Advanced

Imperial Airways Have Received Tenders For Flying Boats

London.—Tenders for a fleet of 20 multi-engine flying boats to be used in the projected England-Canada air service have been submitted to Imperial Airways, according to the air correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, who says the scheme is well advanced.

The flying boats would accommodate from 30 to 50 persons. In the winter, the correspondent says, the route will be by Bermuda and in the summer by Iceland and Greenland.

MAY CALL ON WEALTHY FOR MORE TAXATION

Toronto.—Premier Mitchell Hepburn promised full consideration for the demands of the Ontario hunger marchers but refused to give an answer to any one set of definite questions submitted to him as to the government's policy on unemployment.

He described the questions as involved and unfair and declared the government was agreed conditions in Ontario were bad. At the same time he served notice on "men of wealth and affairs" that they might be called upon through taxation to contribute a larger amount to the public treasury.

For more than three hours Mr. Hepburn, Hon. Arthur Roebuck, attorney-general, and Hon. David Croft, minister of welfare, listened to spokesmen for the hunger marchers who came to Toronto from many scattered points. At the end they each spoke briefly and the marchers declared they were wholly satisfied with the interview.

A group of about 200 met the ministers and there were half a dozen speakers. At the end of the meeting they went into Queen's Park to join a gathering of 2,000 or more and denounce the Hepburn government as an agency of the capitalist class. Absolute freedom of speech and organization was promised in the province by Mr. Roebuck who declared the day of tyranny had gone. He heard complaints about the refusal of a permit to the marchers to meet in city parks and told them to meet on government property. That was not enough, a speaker said. They wanted the definite right to meet in any park.

"What do you want us to do," asked Mr. Roebuck, "go out and conquer Quebec's Park?"

"The workers will conquer Ontario shortly," was the retort.

Mr. Roebuck said he had fought the battles of the workers for years and had not changed his views. He commiserated himself in the shoes of any one of them making the same demands.

"Go on with your organization," he said, "and God bless you. No one will interfere with you. Make your own strong you. We will enforce your demands if your government no matter what its politics."

B. C. PREMIER ASKS FOR PROBE ON SUBSIDIES

Ottawa.—Premier T. D. Pattullo of British Columbia appealed to the Dominion government to appoint a royal commission to study the adequacy of federal subsidies to the far-western province and to absorb the provincially-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway into the Canadian National system.

Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, surrounded by his cabinet, heard the three-hour appeal but gave no immediate reply. He intimated he would study the representations in detail before coming to a decision. The Pacific coast premier planned returning west, adhering to his decision not to sign the direct relief agreement with the Dominion until a reply was given to his suggestion for a nation-wide building program to provide jobs.

The British Columbia premier said he expected to hear in a few days from Mr. Bennett on two or three questions, delaying signing the agreement until then. He said he had not refused to sign because of the contents of the agreement but only because he thought a greater share should give a decision first on the building program.

The Pacific Great Eastern, built between 1912 and 1921 as a branch line of the Grand Trunk Pacific, has been a financial drag on British Columbia for years. It runs from Squamish on Howe Sound to Quesnel on the Fraser river.

Need More Relief

Native Sons Of Canada Ask For More Generous Policy

Winnipeg.—Relief matters predominated at discussions as the Native Sons of Canada, in convention here, adopted a resolution urging the Dominion government to pursue a more generous policy to districts unable to assume a greater share of unemployment relief costs.

The convention received the reply of Prime Minister R. B. Bennett in answer to the organization's telegraphed protest against the new Dominion relief policy. The convention, in its wire to Mr. Bennett, had urged the government change its attitude toward unemployment relief.

Mr. Bennett's telegram read: "Conditions necessitated placing provincial governments in position to exercise their constitutional functions with respect to relief. Federal contributions in aid are based upon experience of the past few years."

E. Hanford, St. Boniface delegate, sponsored the relief resolution. He expressed alarm at the government's attitude on relief. A resolution appealing to the government to have the words "Dominion of" deleted from the present title of "Dominion of Canada" also was passed by the convention.

Britain Apprehensive

Genuine Sorrow Expressed Over Death Of Von Hindenburg

London.—Great Britain's apprehension over Germany's future, now that Von Hindenburg is dead and Adolf Hitler has become the sole arbiter of that nation's affairs, is sharpened by a noticeable "cooling off" in Anglo-German relations during the last few months.

A series of incidents, including the German debts controversy and the Austrian situation, has caused differences to increase at the moment the one man regarded the greatest stabilizing influence in Germany passed on.

Sources close to the British government pointed out foreign powers cannot possibly repose confidence in Hitler to the degree they did in Von Hindenburg.

Genuine sorrow over Von Hindenburg's death, expressed privately in government circles and reflected among the whole British people, was obviously subdued because of anxiety over Germany's destiny, now that the reich's president is lower.

Wheat Exports Lower

Vancouver.—Vancouver shipped 50,166,342 bushels of grain during the crop year 1933-1934, which ended at midnight Aug. 1. This is slightly more than half of last season's export of 96,177,772 bushels. The United Kingdom and the continent this year bought the greater bulk of the Vancouver movement, purchasing 44,427,308 bushels, while the Orient took only 4,508,834 bushels.

DILLINGER—A SYMBOL

Violence was the measure with which John Dillinger "operated." It has been measured to him again. The sense of relief which public officials have expressed over the news of this criminal's death, at the hands of federal agents in Chicago, is no doubt shared by millions of Americans. But those who feel satisfaction over such riddance will do well to think beyond their first emotions, and to ask themselves the cause of that satisfaction. It should not lie in the fact that society has been avenged. The impulse for vengeance is itself anti-social. It should rest not on the report that a wrongdoer has been killed. It would have been better—all emotional opinion to the contrary—if Dillinger had been taken alive, as Mr. Melvin H. Fowler, director of the Chicago agents, had hoped to take him. Christians have good authority for believing that such a reward was inevitable for Dillinger. They have no authority to entertain thoughts of revenge, or any elation over the mere killing of a human being. Nor has the public any reason to relax from the determination to stamp out crime. Statements from the Department of Justice offer a key to which citizens should tune their thinking. "This does not mean the end of the Dillinger case," Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the bureau of investigation, emphasizes. Members of his "gang" remain at large. Even when all those connected with Dillinger's misdoings have been brought to justice, crime will still have to be hunted. It will have to be hunted through all those mazes of erroneous thinking which have snarled the careers of so many materialists. Not in the killing of those ensnared in these mazes, but in the uprooting of crime at its source, should civilized men and women find satisfaction.—The Christian Science Monitor.

AGAIN IT IS SHOWN

TARIFF MUCH TOO HIGH

This week we were looking over a snappy eight-cylinder car that had just driven up from the United States. The thought naturally occurred that it surpassed in beauty and power any other car in town. Then came the shock. The purchase price of this car in the United States is $1,050. The same car manufactured by the same company in Canada sells for $1,970. In other words, the manufacturer, protected under our insane "protective tariff", is penalizing his Canadian customer to the extent of $920 on each car sold. The extra price doesn't represent money paid for labor. The car built in the United States carried just as high a labor cost. This extra price is merely paid that much extra profit paid by the Canadian customers under our present iniquitous tariff policy. How much longer must we stand for it? —Peace River Record.

Because of labor troubles in certain sections of the Nova Scotia coal fields, coal buyers will likely have to look to other sources for supply.

For the first time a Winnipeg newspaper has been delivered in British Columbia on the day of its publication. George M. Ross, of Ottawa, and Jack Sanderson, of Toronto, landed on the flying field at Grand Forks ten hours after leaving Winnipeg and gave to Mayor T. A. Love, also publisher of the Grand Forks Gazette, a copy of the Winnipeg Free Press of the same morning.

ELKS ENJOY VISIT TO JASPER PARK

Jasper Park, Aug. 2nd, 1934.—Although the number of visiting Elks was smaller than was anticipated, this did not detract in the least from the entertainment provided by their hosts, or to the response of the guests, and the finest weather of the season added to the pleasure of the convention.

After the grand lodge session, which occupied most of Wednesday, a parade headed by the Jasper Park band walked through the town and came to a halt in front of the Administration building, where they received the official address of welcome from Supt. Wright. Following this cars were lined up at the Athabasca hotel and everyone taken to Jasper Park Lodge, where the convention banquet and dance was held. Following the banquet the delegates were officially welcomed to the province by Lieutenant Governor Walsh, who spoke of the feeling of dissatisfaction between the east and the west which, he feared, was growing. Such gatherings as this, His Honor said, would help to dispel this feeling and bring us all together for a greater Canada. His Honor expressed the hope that in the deliberations of the grand lodge the ideals of the Order would be advanced and that each member would go back home inspired by the beauty of their surroundings and determined to make Canada a better place to live in.

Dr. W. E. Spankie, of Calgary, Grand Exalted Ruler, J.P.O.E., of Canada and Newfoundland, gave the delegates a stirring speech. He said that we had the beauty of all Switzerland in one place at Jasper, and that they would all be glad when the government completed an all-weather road to the Park. He complimented the superintendent of the Park on the splendid administrative work which was done, and he said that Jasper was destined to become one of the most popular resorts in the Dominion of Canada.

Dr. Spankie gave a brief outline of last year's work, pointing out that in spite of the fact that Grand Lodge had reduced the amount of money necessary for subordinate lodges to remit to them, an action taken to assist weaker lodges in these difficult times, they found their revenue very close to what it was a year ago. Elksdom, said Dr. Spankie, draws no lines, it takes in all creeds and works for a united Canada. The Elks had the strongest organization in the West, and it was no mere accident that in Calgary last year, in spite of the hard times, they had received 450 new members.

Grand lodge sessions were held on Thursday, and in the evening an open-air jittery dance was held at Lake Annette. The refreshment booth was in charge of the O.O.R.P., with Mrs. Lavery as convener. She was capably assisted by Mrs. Hartley, Mrs. Chase, Mrs. Wanamaker, Mrs. Weaver, Mrs. Wiley, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Garvie and others.

Grand lodge session was continued on Friday morning, and in the afternoon the delegates and visitors were driven to Mount Edith Cavell, and in the evening to Maligne Canyon.

All the stores in Jasper were decorated with Elks' colors, and the prize for the best decorated window was awarded to Mr. A. H. Webb.

Carrot leaves once were believed to be so decorative that the ladies of Queen Elizabeth's time wore them in their hair in place of feathers.

Here is something new, if not somewhat out of the ordinary. It comes from a writer in the Amherstburg Echo who suggests that unemployed be given work on the farms, not as ordinary hired men, but in painting barns with paint supplied by the government, or putting up fences, with wire supplied, and generally fixing up properties where owners have been unable to spare the cash lately. He says he got the idea in Quebec, where he saw so many white barns that he asked the reason and was told that the provincial government supplied the paint, providing the owner would put it on the barn.

TORONTO EXTENDS WELCOME ON TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY

On the occasion of the Ex-Servicemen's convention, held in Toronto on August the 4th, William J. Stearns, mayor of Toronto, addressed the assemblage as follows:

"On behalf of the citizens of Toronto I extend a sincere and hearty welcome to the Ex-Servicemen of the King's forces who have gathered here for their great reunion.

Twenty years ago the British Empire drew the sword to protect a brave but defenceless little nation from the cruel aggression of a mighty people who had deluded themselves into thinking that might was right. Had that crime against the Belgians been successful and unpunished, the next victims would probably have been our own people.

To you, who offered your lives that those at home might live in safety is due the gratitude and admiration of all thinking people.

To all who served, and especially to those who gave their all, we are forever indebted for the peace, liberty and opportunities for service which we now enjoy. The memory of our glorious dead we do, and forever will, hold sacred. The motto upon our City Hall for Centennial Year expresses the feeling of the innermost depths of our hearts—"We remember."

Toronto welcomes you. We are proud of you—proud of your efficiency, your courage, your invincible cheerfulness, your devotion to duty even unto death.

May we hope that your reunion here, graced by the presence of your great leaders at sea and on land and in the air, will inspire those whom you protected to more whole-hearted service for others, in emulation of that high courage with which you, in saving the Empire, seemed to save yourselves.

I sincerely wish for you all, good health and good luck."

LATE-HOUR BRIDGE LADIES CAUSE POLICE RESIGNATION

Two sad catastrophes happened in the uncivilized world as the month of July ebbed out its last fleeting breath—Chancellor Dollfus was shot down in cold blood at Vienna, and while the world was sadly mourning his assassination, Chief of Police Dodge Reynolds, of the 'Stately police force, tendered his resignation. His only reason for such a drastic step was the same as explained by ex-Chief L. L. Jones, and ex-Chief Mat. Findlay who had resigned before him—"the strain of escorting women home after late bridge parties."

"No officer can stand up under such a nervous strain," said the chief as he placed his typewritten resignation in the hands of John Jenkins, chairman of the police commission and local detective bureau.

The chief was urged to reconsider his resignation and to have little or nothing to do with the late-hour feminine bridge fiends, but like John Brownlee, the chief flatly refused, again saying he "was through and that it would be like a celluloid dog chasing an asbestos cat through hell to try and persuade him to head the force any longer."

The police commission held an all-night session lately to replace someone as chief of police for the town, as the result of which Bill Cookson succeeds the late chief and takes over his new duties immediately. The new chief is well qualified, especially for the job of "walking the babies back home."—Stately Advertiser.

A study made by Dr. Marion LeRoy, at the University of Michigan, showed that men were 48.7 per cent better than women in reasoning out problems, regardless of the subject, in spite of the fact that the intelligence rating of the two sexes is approximately equal. Dr. F. Maier, of the University, also found that men were better at reasoning, but women superior in taking suggestions. They found, too, that good memorizers are often poor problem solvers.

OUTLAW'S FAREWELL

Before the case of John Dillinger lapses into obscurity, it is worth while to have a final glance at the verdict of the coroner's jury which pronounced into his death. The verdict reads as follows:

"John Dillinger came to his death from the wounds of bullets fired from a revolver or revolvers, all in the hands of one or more government agents. The agents are to be highly commended for their efficient participation in the occurrence."

In its laconic brevity and salty expressiveness, this verdict has a tang not unlike those which used to be recorded in the wild west of frontier days. It tells the whole story in two sentences. Short and brief, it is a fitting epitaph for a gunman.—New Glasgow Free Lance.

Harvey Murphy conducted an anti-war meeting on the vacant lot in the rear of the 41 Meat Market on Wednesday evening. Harvey seems to know all about wars and the diplomacy which brings them on. He has an idea that they are created for the general amusement of the capitalist class. The real reason for the public meeting was to create a demand for the release of Tim Buck and other agitators who are serving time in Kingston penitentiary.—Ferne Free Press.

With trouble on his brow.
The carburetor seems to be
The cause of all his woe;
He tightens half a dozen bolts,
But still it doesn't go.
He sits beside the road to give
His brain a chance to cool,
And ponders on his training at
The correspondence school.
And then he starts his job once more,
And just by chance 'tis seen,
The cause of all his trouble is He's out of gasoline!—Selected.

"It was worthless until properly advertised"

For a long time it was a failure. No one would buy a Gillette Razor. In desperation King C. Gillette began giving razors away. But it did no good.

It was not till nearly ten years later, when an advertising expert came along, that Gillette Razors began to boom. In a few years Gillette was a rich man. His company came to have a capital of $6,000,000, with a profit of £1,500,000 and factories all over the world.

One fact stands out: THE IDEA WAS WORTHLESS UNTIL PROPERLY ADVERTISED.

Why shouldn't you benefit by advertising? Harness the "power of the Press" to your own problem. Tell people about your produce or service. And keep telling them! It's the 'ammer, 'ammer, 'ammer that brings the business in. Remember—

RED RASPBERRY JAM

4 cups (2 lbs.) prepared fruit
 ½ cup (2½ lbs.) sugar
 1½ bottle fruit pectin.

Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just 5 minutes to cook slightly, to prevent foaming fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once. Makes about 19 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

Noted Horticulturist Dead

Ernest Hutcherson Was Charter Member Of B.C. Fruit Growers
 Ernest Hutcherson, 81, who was the first horticulturist at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, Ont., and who gave instruction in 1879 to Hon. W. R. Motherwell, former Dominion minister of agriculture, is dead at Ladner, B.C., where he had resided 52 years.

Mr. Hutcherson resigned from the Guelph college in 1880. With the late Thomas McNeely, he set out probably the first commercial orchard in British Columbia.

He was one of the founders and charter members of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association and was appointed the first fruit pest inspector in the province. In 1908, Western Australia applied to the B.C. government for a man to frame and enforce a fruit pest act for the state and Mr. Hutcherson was loaned. He remained on the government staff in Western Australia for 10 years.

Started Big Plan

Originator Of Self-Denial Week Dies In England

John Carleton, oldest commissioner in the Salvation Army and chairman of the Army's assurance society, who died at a nursing home in Bromley at the age of 86, was the father of the self-denial week.

At a time of financial stringency, 48 years ago, General William Booth, appealed to his officers for ideas. Carleton sent up a note offering to "go without pudding for a year and save 50 shillings."

The general's imagination was captured by the suggestion. "We ought not to ask our people to go without pudding for a whole year," he said, "but I see no reason why we should not ask them to unite in going without something every day for a week."

This year John Carleton's idea brought in nearly $750,000.

LIVE AT HOME

By JACK MINER

There is no human power that can convince me that our loving God is to blame for this present crisis. The fact is for over four years we have allowed ourselves to go blood thirsty mad, right from the bar-room to the pulpit, and God did not settle all this world's affairs on November 11, 1918, for since that we have gone extravagantly crazy. Yes we have a vast throng of ten cent millionaires and have allowed ourselves to drift

Oriental poppy seeds. Yes, and a few sprouts from their lilac and snow-bell bushes, and a hundred and one plants and shrubs that I am absolutely sure will make your little home dearer to your heart. Now don't let any landscape gardener or florist unload his services upon you, but plan it and plant it yourself. I tell you, a tree planted by your own hands can become a dear tree to you. My dissatisfied brother, try this plan and in less than five years you will away out and plunge head first into imaginary happenings, as someone has said, "Like a blind man in a dark room looking for a black cat that is not there."

Now, we are beginning to wake up and find we have been fishing on the wrong side of the boat. Yes, we begin to realize we have missed a golden opportunity and are dissatisfied with ourselves and everybody else, but here we are a thousand miles from home and nothing to show for it.

Now to those of you who have no home of your own, please let me advise you, to try the "live-at-home"

be giving flowers to the other fellow. Personally, the little trifles I have been able to give away have brought me greater dividends than the few thousand dollars I have made in my brick and drain the business.

Now I don't care who you are, for it is the thoughts you allow your heart to entertain that give you desires and cause you to act, and I know you can enjoy the music in your own garden with a hoe in your hands, and even though you have to live in a tent for a season, you will enjoy it more and sleep sounder than when you are paying rent for four brick walls. And oh, what a blessed remedy. Take ten per cent. of the money you have extravagantly spent the last five years and buy at least five acres of Canada's cheap land. Remember, Canada has the very best helpful forestry department, get in touch with them and watch for wild flowering shrubs, such as Hawthorns that you can plant yourself to make this little spot nearer and dearer to your heart. Grow your own potatoes, cabbage, and other vegetables. Oh, yes, and if far enough south, plant a dozen mulberry trees. If in the north, plant Mountain Ash.

Watch for people who have nice flowers and kindly ask them for a few plants such as Iris, ask them for some hollyhocks, delphiniums, or change. In a few short years you will find yourself living in your own little planned and built cottage, perfectly surrounded with a little bit of heaven and the fragrance, keyed up by the songs of a variety of birds that come floating through upon your open window.

My dear friend, this is a dream but it can be done and you can do it if you will only cultivate the desire. My grey hairs and scars of experience have compelled me to believe that a man can accomplish most anything he concentrates on. Let us all thank God that things are as well as they are with us and help ourselves by entertaining more "live-at-home" desires.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

AUGUST 12

AMOS PLEADS FOR JUSTICE

Golden Text: "Love worketh no ill to his neighbor: love therefore is the fulfillment of the law." Romans 13:10.
 Lesson: Amos, Chapters 5 and 7.
 Devotional Reading: Proverbs 21:1-7.

Explanations And Comments

A Lament over Israel, 5:1-3. Amos has been called "the first demagogue of Israel." Hear ye this word which I take up for a lamentation over you, O house of Israel: thus Amos begins our message. A "lamentation" is a technical term applied to poetry of a mournful tone, a dirge such as was chanted over the dead, as in David's lamentation over Saul and Jonathan (2 Samuel 1:17), or in the face of any calamity, such as Ezekiel uttered in Ezekiel 19. "The virgin of Israel is fallen; she is cast down upon the land." Although Amos wrote many decades before the destruction of Samaria, the consequences which he saw and of which he was so sure that he used the present tense, came to pass in 722 B.C. when Assyria conquered the city and carried its people off into exile.

Injustice and Oppression Denounced, 5:10-13. The gate, as we learned in an earlier lesson, is the broad open space before a city gate where claims were adjusted. "They hate him that reproacheth in the gate," cried Amos, "and they abhor him that speaketh uprightly." Amos knew too well how he was hated in Israel. He was accused of blasphemy and high treason, and told by the priest Amaziah to "Go, flee to the land of Judah, and eat there thy bread, and prophesy there; but prophesy not again over more at Bethel." And he had obeyed and there he wrote down the substance of the addresses he had given.

Amos next addressed the judges and accused them of tramping on the poor, demanding a portion of their scanty harvest of wheat, for no other way could they obtain justice except by thus buying it. Retribution would come upon them, for they would not dwell long in their fine houses of hewn stone, nor drink the wine from so pleasant vineyards. Your transgressions are many, your sins mighty. You take a bribe from the rich and let them escape the penalty, and withhold a man's rights who is too poor to pay a bribe. Moffatt translates: "I know your countless crimes, how countless crimes men, accepting bribes, defrauding the poor of justice."

A Way Of Escape From Penalty, 5:14, 15. Professor Kent paraphrases these verses in these words: "To whomsoever my words appeal, I repeat: persevere in your efforts to do that which is right in the sight of God, and he, the all-powerful and just, will not fail you. Undauntedly strive to put down public evil, and to purify the law courts; perchance a faithful few may yet survive the approaching destruction to enjoy Jehovah's blessing and favor."

Justice, Not Mere Ritual, Pleasing to God, 5:21-24. The prophet now represents God as saying, "I hate, I despise your feasts, and I will take no delight in your solemn assemblies." But let justice roll down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream.

Little Journeys In Science

WATER

(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

Water is the most familiar of all chemical compounds. It covers about three-fourths of the earth's surface, the greatest depth of the ocean being about six miles. It is an important component of the air, and even "dry" land contains considerable quantities of water. It constitutes about 62% of beef, 87% of milk, 92% of water-melons, and 95% of cucumbers. Thus, when we buy normal milk we pay for about 87% water.

Living things, both plants and animals, cannot exist without it. Enormous shipping, fishing, and other industries result from the fact that three quarters of the earth's surface consists of sea water, and in addition, there is a great volume of fresh river and lake water so necessary to human beings and other creatures not inhabiting the sea.

Steam power is derived from water, and other mechanical power is obtained from falling water, as at Niagara where electricity is generated on a very large scale.

Pure water is odorless and tasteless. In thin layers it has no color that can be detected, but it has a bluish tint when observed through considerable thickness. When sufficiently cooled it solidifies to a colorless solid commonly known as ice. When heated it boils and changes rapidly into water vapor, commonly called steam.

There is a general law of nature that substances expand when heated and contract when cooled. Fortunately for man and other living creatures water does not always follow this law. When warm water is cooled it contracts according to the law of expansion and contraction, until it reaches four degrees centigrade. For some reason which scientists cannot explain, from four degrees down as far as you wish to go water expands instead of contracting. Now, if it expands it will be lighter than it was above four degrees, and hence the cold water will rise to the surface. When the temperature drops to zero ice forms at the surface first, and then layer after layer is formed from the surface down as the temperature remains below zero.

All would be different if water followed the law of expansion and contraction rigidly. The water would become heavier as the temperature approached zero and this heavy cold water would drop to the bottom of lake or river. Ice would form first at the bottom and as the winter progressed the lake would freeze from the bottom up, until it was converted into a solid mass of ice. All water animals would be destroyed and the warmth of summer would not be sufficient to thaw it out.

At noon, the temperature of the moon is hotter than boiling water, but it falls to several hundred degrees below zero at night.
